Form 990, Schedule F, Supplemental Information:

Explanation: International Justice Mission exists to protect people from violent forces of injustice and to ensure that public justice systems effectively and sustainably protect the poor. In pursuit of this mission, IJM conducts individual casework on behalf of impoverished victims of violent abuse in Central America, South America, Southeast Asia, South Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa. This casework both ensures relief for individual victims of abuse and informs IJM's strategies for pursuing transformational change of public justice systems.

Part V Supplemental Information

Provide the information required by Part I, line 2 (monitoring of funds); Part I, line 3, column (f) (accounting method; amounts of investments vs. expenditures per region); Part II, line 1 (accounting method); Part III (accounting method); and Part III, column (c) (estimated number of recipients), as applicable. Each IJM Field Office addresses specific forms of oppression that impact the poor in the geographic region. In the majority of IJM's Field Offices in Africa, IJM investigators, attorneys and aftercare staff work on behalf of victims of illegal, predatory land seizures (primarily widows and orphans) and child victims of sexual violence.

One Africa Field Office (Nairobi, Kenya) also specializes in casework on behalf of victims of police abuse of power.

In South Asia, IJM combats two forms of modern-day slavery: sex trafficking and forced labor. In Southeast Asia, IJM's casework focus is sex trafficking and other forms of sexual violence. IJM teams bring rescue to victims of these crimes, partner with excellent aftercare providers to ensure survivors are supported as they heal, and have achieved significant success in securing convictions for perpetrators of these crimes. One Field Office in Southeast Asia (Chiang Mai, Thailand) conducts casework to ensure that members of hill tribe ethnic minority groups can access the citizenship and attendant benefits to which they are entitled. The goal of this citizenship casework is to decrease vulnerability to sex trafficking and other forms of violent oppression.

In South and Central America, IJM combats sexual violence against children- a pervasive category of crime that overwhelmingly victimizes impoverished children and women. IJM's investigative and legal teams partner with local authorities to ensure that perpetrators are arrested, charged and convicted for these violent acts; IJM social workers provide long-term support to victims of the crime.

IJM uses its unique knowledge of systemic gaps, weaknesses and deficiencies gained through individual casework to pursue structural transformation that ensures the poor are effectively and sustainably served by the public justice systems upon which they must rely for protection.

Expense allocation:

When possible, IJM records expenses directly to the Field Offices to which they relate; for program expenses not directly allocated to a specific region, IJM allocates expenses based on the percentage of offices located in that region over the total number of offices. Additionally, IJM allocates bank fees and transfer fees as they relate to maintaining bank accounts for each office as well as transfer fees associated with the movement of funds to Field Offices. The allocation used for bank fees is also weighted based on the number of Field Offices in each region. Finally, IJM allocates fundraising expenses to each region based on the budget for that region as a percentage of the total IJM budget.

Part I, Line 1a:

Explanation: International Justice Mission provides companion travel for expatriates as part of the Organization's Staff Care plan. There are two specific instances where companion travel is allowed. These are annual required furlough travel and required attendance at an annual event held by the organization. All travel is subject to the procurement policy of the organization. All companion travel is treated as taxable income to the employee.

The organization has a tax equalization program for its expatriate staff.

This program equalizes the tax liability of the staff in order to simulate a tax liability equal to what they would pay if they were earning their income at our Head Quarters office in Washington, DC. Any taxes paid on behalf of an employee participating in the tax equalization program are treated as taxable income to that employee.

IJM pays for the reasonable and necessary costs of home security services for expatriate employees in host cities where there are significant safety concerns, as deemed appropriate by a designated home security committee.

Part III Supplemental Information

Provide the information, explanation, or descriptions required for Part I, lines 1a, 1b, 3, 4a, 4b, 4c, 5a, 5b, 6a, 6b, 7, and 8, and for Part II. Also complete this part for any additional information.

virtually no recourse, despite clear laws against the violations. The rule of law should offer protection to vulnerable people, but according to a United Nations report, more than 4 billion people live outside the protection of the law. IJM is addressing this crisis by ensuring access to rule of law for the poor through the provision of individual casework services and in collaboration with government partners to reform the justice system.

IJM attorneys, investigators, social workers, community activists and other professionals work in 11 countries throughout Africa, Latin America, South Asia and Southeast Asia.

IJM protects the poor from violence by partnering with local authorities to:

- Rescue victims
- Bring criminals to justice
- Restore survivors
- Strengthen justice systems.

IJM combats slavery, sex trafficking, sexual violence, police abuse of power, property grabbing and citizenship rights abuse. By collaborating with communities and governments, IJM serves individual victims of violence and pursues dramatic improvements in the justice system to protect all people vulnerable to the crime.

IJM's unique model to drive maximum-impact, long-term change is called

Justice System Transformation:

Phase 1: Collaborative Casework

IJM partners with local authorities to rescue individual victims of a specific crime, bring criminals to justice and restore survivors. By taking on individual cases, IJM also works to strengthen the justice system.

Phase 2: System Reform

IJM continues collaborative casework, and launches intense, collaborative projects that aim to dramatically improve the justice system's response to the targeted crime. By using what they have learned through scores of individual cases, IJM teams design projects that will help fix what is most broken in the justice system.

Phase 3: Sustain Gains

IJM monitors and evaluates results and continues to support local government partners. At this point, the justice system can be counted on to effectively protect poor people from the targeted form of violence.

In 2013 IJM and IJM-trained partners brought tangible relief to 3,555 people-victims of slavery, sex trafficking, sexual violence, citizenship violations, police abuse of power and illegal property seizure-and provided aftercare services or trainings for thousands more. Each victory represents the tenacious work of IJM's frontline team of attorneys, social workers and investigators-work that continues long-term as survivors heal and rebuild their lives with the assistance of IJM aftercare, and as IJM attorneys pursue justice in court processes that can take years.

In 2013 IJM and IJM-trained partners worked with local authorities to bring freedom to 2,266 forced labor slaves, and IJM assisted local authorities to rescue 239 victims of sex trafficking. IJM restored property to 400 impoverished people, the vast majority of whom were widows and orphans. IJM ensured that 471 hill tribe members were granted the Thai citizenship to which they are entitled-reducing vulnerability to trafficking and other forms of violent oppression. IJM legal teams worked alongside local law enforcement to ensure the arrest of 381 accused perpetrators of violence against the poor. A total of 153 perpetrators were convicted of their crimes-men and women who believed they could act with impunity simply because of their victims' poverty. IJM conducted police trainings and community-and church-based trainings throughout the developing world, equipping vulnerable people, community leaders, and law enforcement with the knowledge they need to protect themselves and their communities from violent oppression.

These figures encompass IJM's casework in 18 Field Offices. They do not include the results of two casework alliance partnership offices in South America.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b, Program Service Accomplishments:

IJM's Church Mobilization team helps church communities engage in the justice movement, both in local communities and globally. More than 200 churches around the U.S. are deeply invested in IJM's work and building justice ministries in their own communities. In 2013, more than 400,000 people heard IJM's message and connected with IJM through forums, conferences and churches around the world.

IJM Student Mobilization supports a growing "justice generation" of students serving as new leaders in the fight for international human rights. Working with college campus chapters and high schools across the U.S., IJM's programs empower students to leverage their talents and energy to fight slavery and other forms of everyday violence against the poor. In 2013, 80,000 students advocated for justice with IJM: Thousands signed petitions; student leaders from more than 100 schools participated in our first-ever NorthStar student leadership conference; and over 500 schools and communities took a Stand for Freedom across 36 states.

IJM Justice Campaigns team engages grassroots advocates in supporting U.S. government policies that will combat violence against the poor.

IJM has provided thousands of individuals and groups with concrete tools for sharing about everyday violence and mobilizing policymakers to help end it. After significant advocacy from IJM and our supporters, the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act (TVPRA) passed as an amendment to the Violence Against Women Act. This landmark law re-authorizes the U.S. to combat trafficking and slavery at home and abroad.

In IJM's field offices around the world, community relations teams work within their own cities to spread information on legal rights and help the poor pursue justice through police and local courts. In places like India and the Philippines, media and local churches are taking hold of the vision and empowering communities to seek justice in new and exciting ways. In India, over 100,000 people are now praying for justice regularly through information provided by IJM.

By raising awareness of the issue of violence against the poor, IJM brings allies from all walks of life into the struggle to protect the poor from violence. IJM's work has been featured by outlets such as Forbes Magazine, The Washington Post, The Times of India, The Guardian, The New York Times, The New Yorker, Foreign Affairs, "The Today Show," "The Oprah Winfrey Show," "Dateline NBC," MSNBC, CNN, BBC World News and National Public Radio, among many others.

Additionally, all staff who are authorized to approve expenses are sent the conflict of interest policy via e-mail and required, on an annual basis, to affirm that they did not engage in or know about any conflicts of interest.

Chief Executive Officer:

The Board independently determines the salary and benefits for the Chief Executive Officer. The Vice President of Human Resources provides the Board with competitive market salary data obtained from external compensation surveys. Based on the information presented, the Board discusses the Chief Executive Officer's performance, the overall performance of IJM, and the competitive market. The Board independently makes compensation decisions in an executive session, without the Chief Executive Officer present.

Senior Executives (Vice President Level and Above):

Of these, 154 were employed at HQ in Washington, DC; 17 were U.S.

Expatriates; 3 were Third Country Nationals; and 425 were Local National Staff in our Field Offices. Third Country Nationals are citizens of neither the U.S. nor the country in which they are working, and Local National staff members live in, work in and are citizens of the country in which our office is located. These two types of employees are not subject to U.S. Income taxes and therefore are not reported on IRS Form W-3. The number in part I line 5 (209) relates to the number of employees for whom IJM submitted W-2 forms to the IRS and
